It looks like Syfy is going to take another bite out of their 2017 schedule, as Van Helsing has been renewed for a second season.

According to Deadline, Syfy has renewed Van Helsing just four episodes into its debut season, and production on season 2 will begin in January 2017.

“We have a wonderful and terrifying road ahead planned for Vanessa, her allies and her enemies,” said Neil LaBute (showrunner). “I think this is a world and a story that can be sustained for many years and I am inspired to do so thanks to Syfy’s obvious trust and commitment in the storytellers, cast and crew.”

The Van Helsing TV series follows Vanessa Van Helsing (a descendant of the vampire hunter played by Hugh Jackman in the 2004 movie), who awakens from a coma to discover she’s immune to bloodthirsty vampires who have taken over America.

The Van Helsing series holds a 5.5 out of 10 rating on IMDB, and it isn’t faring much better on Metacritic. We think the critics might be a bit too harsh on it, as it’s a generally fun and harmless show to pass the time with.

Van Helsing season 2 will have 13 episodes, as does season 1.

This news comes a month after Syfy renewed Killjoys and Dark Matter for new seasons as well.

You can watch Van Helsing every Friday at 10:00PM EST on Syfy.
